Trial delayed for "Brother Bill"

Leader of Holy Way faces competency hearing

The trial of Clarence Eden "Brother Bill" Williams, pastor of The Holy Way, a Pahokee church, has been delayed.

Circuit Judge Virginia Broome agreed to a delay of the trial after Williams' attorney, Bert Winkler, said he was concerned Williams was having difficulty distinguishing between his thoughts and the realities around him.

Judge Broome scheduled a competency hearing for Tuesday, February 23.

Williams had asked the judge last Wednesday to release him on $25,000 bail or on his own recognizance, but that request was denied.

Williams, charged with three counts of sexual activity with a child and violation of probation, was on probation after pleading guilty in April, 1986, to forcing a sexual performance by a child, and lascivious acts.

The 20-year-old victim in the newer case said Williams used his position and influence as leader of the church to force her to have sexual intercourse with him between October 1987 and October 1990.

The victim allowed the abuse to continue for three years and did not report the alleged abuse to police until eight months after the last incident, said defense attorney Winkler.

Winkler also brought 26 Williams supporters to the hearing.

A Pahokee man, who asked not to be identified, said Williams supporters were "Like Pet Rocks; they have no mind of their own."

Assistant State Attorney Betty Resch argued Williams shouldn't be released on bail because his newest offense took place while he was on probation for having committed a similar crime.

Special census finds 907 more people in Belle Glade

Belle Glade's special census is completed and the preliminary count shows an increase of 907 residents. The count unofficially stands at 17,084 as compared to the 1990 Census count of 16,177.

Although city officials anticipated an even higher count, the estimated $60,000 cost of conducting the census appears to be well worth the expense.

Finance Director William Underwood estimates the city receives $125 per person per year in state and federal revenue sharing dollars. The gain of 907 extra residents calculates to about $113,375 per year until the year 2000.

City Manager Lomar Harrelle said, "The decision to have the recount was certainly in the best interests of the taxpayer for business purposes. We are in dire need of any extra funding, and the city stands to realize approximately $680,000 total increase. This extra funding can make a difference in maintaining services now provided to our residents."

Anyone who has not been counted may main in his information to the U.S. Bureau of the Census.

Were You Counted forms are available at City Hall, and these mail-in forms will be accepted by the Bureau of the Census until February 25.

If Belle Glade gets 100 more residents to send in their forms, this means another $75,000 the city would receive for the next six years.

Residents who were not counted are urged to come by City Hall and fill out the form within the next two weeks.

NAACP protest arrests of 19 for voter fraud in September election

By BRENDA BUNTING

Citizens living outside the city limits of Belle Glade showed up in force at Monday night's commission meeting to protest the arrest of 19 people for voter fraud.

They say they want the housing projects of Palm Glades Apartments, 718 Mobile Home Park and Okeechobee Center annexed into the city so they can have the right to vote in city elections.

Spokesman Larry Konchellah, president of the Glades Branch of the NAACP told commissioners black citizens are "concerned and outraged" over how the investigation was handled by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement. He said he understood Belle Glade city employees helped with the investigation.

"We are not satisfied with how the investigation was conducted," he said. "Many of those arrested say they did not know they could not vote in the city election," he added.

He said the investigation targeted black voters unfairly and the investigation focused on mostly black neighborhoods outside the city limits.

The election investigation was a run-off between Daniel Bythwood, current city commissioner, and challenger Ed Rongione. Bythwood is black, Rongione is white. All of those arrested were black.

Bythwood and Rongione tied in the Sept. 15 election and Commissioner Bythwood won the run-off by six votes.

Local police say they still have no clues in the death of a Belle Glade man who was possibly abducted from the area and beaten and strangled to death in Gainesville.

The body of Jamal Rateb Abughali, 31, was found February 1 on a road off Interstate 75 in Gainesville. His hands and feet were bound and he had been hit in the head several times.

Friends say Mr. Abughali was last seen about 6 p.m. Sunday. He had been watching the Super Bowl with friends but said he had to meet some migrant workers in LaBelle.

A jogger found Abughali's body on Monday morning behind an office park in Gainesville.

According to long-time friend Dr. Ahmad Barhoush, Mr. Abughali was a peddler who sold clothing, radios and televisions out of the back of his dark blue Ford F-250 van.

The van has not been found. Family members say Mr. Abughali's wallet was found about 14 miles from the body.

Lt. Jack Fulenwider with the Belle Glade Police Department is handling the investigation locally. He asks anyone who has information on this homicide to contact him at 996-

A Belle Glade man in is the Palm Beach County Jail today without bond after allegedly threatening to kill his family and police with a compound bow.

Police were called to the home of Eugene M. Wynn, 24, of 1600 N.W. Avenue F, on Friday, February 7 about 3:49 a.m.

His wife, Tina Louise Wynn called officers after her husband threatened to kill her and her four children and two other children who were staying at the home.

After Belle Glade officers arrived, Wynn allegedly threatened them with the bow and arrow.

The Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office Special Response Team was called in and after a two hour standoff, Wynn was talked into dropping his weapon and surrendering.

Wynn was charged with 11 counts of aggravated assault.

Five vehicles involved...in this rainy Friday accident about 16 miles south of South Bay on U.S. 27. The van above was stopped due to another accident just ahead, and was hit from behind by a pickup truck. The van then rear-ended another car, sideswiped another, and finally ran into the dump truck above. The driver of the van, a Ms. Jackson, was injured. No other information was released by the Florida Highway Patrol as of press time. Wednesday-morning another series of accidents occurred in the area; this one on 380 about one mile east of Duda Road. In the Wednesday accident four contributed to three separate crashes in the same location. Troopers were still sorting it out at press time, but it appears the driver of the Westbound 1982 Chrysler that caused the accident had fled the scene. That driver swerved across the center line and hit a 1991 Chevy van driven by Patricia Walker of South Bay. She and her five passengers received minor injuries in the early morning wreck. Deputies arriving at the scene said visibility was less than twenty feet.

FDLE Special Agent Bernard Mortenson said the investigation was thoroughly unbiased and that his department had compared voter names with lists of residents in trailer and apartment complexes near the city limits. They also did a random survey of all precincts. Sixty-three people were checked.

Mr. Konchellah told Mr. Mortenson he had a list with other names of those who had voted illegally. "I told him to get me the list and I would check them out; but we are not going to check every registered voter in the city."

Mr. Konchellah had produced no list for Mr. Mortenson as of Tuesday, February 9.

Voter fraud is a third degree felony. Those arrested could face fines and up to a year's imprisonment. All 19 of those arrested were booked into the Palm Beach County Jail and then released on their own recognizance. Several of those arrested were at Monday night's commission meeting.

City Clerk June Boglioli said she initiated the investigation after she observed a person come into the September 22 election who admitted he/she did not live within the city limits. She said that person left and then came back later and voted.

FDLE Chief Agent Mike Loffredo, of the West Palm Beach Office, said "We have no idea who these people voted for and we really don't care. We are only concerned that there was voter fraud."

"Had white people voted illegally, they would have been arrested too," he added.

He said in his 25 years with FDLE he has only handled this type of case two or three times.

She works with the Youth Basketball Team in South Bay and has helped with fund raising. She is the Vice President of the Glades Youth Academic Recreation Agriculture Program.

Her opponent is running for her third two-year term. Ms.

Smith, 28, is a social services coordinator in the West Area School Board office in Belle Glade.

In Group 3, Michael E. Jackson, 29, is challenging Iris Tanner. Mrs. Tanner, 53, is trying for her second two-year term. She is the executive director for the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

Jackson is a migrant resource teacher at Lake Shore Middle School in Belle Glade.

Basil Anderson is unopposed in his quest for a fifth term on the commission. Mr. Anderson, 53, is a sugar cane technologist at U.S. Sugar Corporation at the Bryant Sugar Mill.

Qualifying ended Tuesday, February 9, for the March 9 election.

Guest editorial

By Michael J. Thompson
Agriscience teacher at Glades Central Community High School
Advisor to the Belle Glade FFA Chapter

This is not your father's ag class

Editor's note: February 20-27 is FFA Week in the United States. We asked Mr. Thompson to write this guest editorial for our readers.

As a young freshman student sits in a new class in August and look at his course outline, he notices some rather interesting items in the topic listing. Leadership skills, marketing, computer applications, and biotechnology are among the many items he will study this year.

This student might think, "This is not the agriculture class that my father told me about." That student is absolutely right, for just as agriculture has changed and is changing at a pace that challenges any individual, the old Vocational-Agriculture Class has become Agriscience and Technology.

But amid all these changes are a few things that do not change for students taking agriculture class and becoming active in the FFA Chapter at Glades Central Community High School.

The educational sector is experiencing very drastic and unsettling changes. There is to be more emphasis on critical thinking, problem solving abilities and cooperative learning in the curriculum.

Teachers will be challenged to find ways to improve the self-esteem of students and provide new motivations that will encourage students to stay in school and attend regularly.

The teachers over the next few years will have to provide methods that will help students increase test scores and go on to be successful after they graduate from high school. Students will have to worry about getting into college and paying for their education as budget money dries up and costs of school increase.

There is one section of education and one group of students who are not as concerned as others might be. The students in agriculture classes and the FFA look on these changes and wonder what took the rest of education so long to realize that these things were important.

Students in agriculture are not concerned with learning the skills that are on the HSCT test, for they can go into a field and determine its area to the nearest one-thousandth of an acre with nothing more than a paper and pencil.

The students can balance feed problems for animals, interpret data from market reports, and develop their critical thinking skills by judging and evaluating animals and parcels of land. The student in today's agriculture class investigates the scientific reasons behind many of the marvels of nature first hand because of their class and individual projects.

These students gain a better sense of self-worth, and as they learn leadership by practicing parliamentary procedure and speaking skills, they gain confidence by using these skills in competition with other members of the FFA in the county, state and nation.

The students become aware of the national and international role of American agriculture by attending conferences and conventions with other agriculture students from around the world. The FFA provides countless opportunities for these students through its programs of scholarships, travel and competition. What are the results of this program at Glades Central? Over the past six years, agriculture students have consistently scored higher than the school average on the assessment test for their grade level.

One hundred percent of the students completing the agriculture program have met the Florida Department of Education placement standards.

Members of the FFA have won County, District and Regional titles in such areas as Public Speaking, Parliamentary Procedure, Dairy, Horse and Livestock Judging, Agriculture Mechanics, and many more.

Today we have students who compete on the state level in 14 different proficiency areas. These areas include Agriscience Student of the Year, Computers in Agriculture and State Star Awards.

Our students have traveled to Washington D.C. to meet with congressmen and senators. They have traveled to Kansas City to attend the National Convention with 25,000 other students who wear the blue and gold jacket with such pride.

And, as their teacher for the past 10 years, it has been my privilege to watch these young men and women grow up before my eyes and turn into mature and responsible adults who become a contributing part of the community in which they live.

As the National FFA Organization celebrates during FFA Week, let us always keep in mind that the development of leadership and the continued growth of our young people is the highest priority that this society can have.

Editors note: The POLICE NEWS in this newspaper lists arrests, not convictions, unless otherwise stated. Arrested persons who later are found not guilty or have had the charges against them dropped are welcome to let us know. We will confirm the information and print it.

Inequity in gas prices

I'm just coming off of vacation in Georgia. I can buy super-unleaded for a dollar and three point nine cents a gallon. And in Belle Glade here it's anywhere from $1.50 - you can't buy it anywhere for less than a $1.35 a gallon. And they talk about freight from the Port of Miami? What about freight from the Port of Miami to Georgia. Something's wrong somewhere.

Dispose of used needles properly

If you or someone you know is an insulin dependent diabetic or requires home injections of medication, The Palm Beach County Public Health Unit wants to tell you about a new voluntary program for the safe and proper disposal of used needles.

"Sharps" are defined as having the potential to puncture or lacerate. These include syringes with attached needles and disposable lancets. Sharps that are thrown away can cause many problems.

-- They clog sewers and lift stations.
-- They end up at recycling centers.

What can you do? Participate in the Used Sharps Depository Program. Here's how it works:

-- Go to a designated exchange site and get an approved sharps box.

the process.

And here is some great news. For the month of February the disposal program is FREE! Six clinic depository sites are conveniently located throughout Palm Beach County.

If you require home injections of medication, please contact the HRS/Palm Beach County Public Health Unit at 355-3015 for more information about the Used Sharps Depository Program.

Your cooperation is essential in making this program successful and removing the potential danger of improper disposal of needles.

United Way volunteers tour the Glades

The volunteer board of directors of United Way of Palm Beach County recently met in Belle Glade to tour the area and speak with the community's leaders about health and human service needs in western Palm Beach County.

About 30 board members took a bus from eastern Palm Beach County to Belle Glade City Hall January 21 to listen to a panel presentation by representatives by local health and social service agencies.

"The purpose of this meeting was to listen and learn, and also to show the United Way's concern for human needs in western Palm Beach County," said Arthur Bellis, chairman of the board.

Among Belle Glade community leaders represented were Scot Kannel, executive director of the Glades Area Association for Retarded Citizens; Tim Henderson, research analyst, Health and Human Services Planning Association; Joe Amato, president, Glades Planned Approach to Community Health (PATCH); John Brown, executive director, NOAH Development Corporation; Sister Mary John, Haitian Catholic Center; Katie Perry, Children's Home Society;

Juanita Malone, chairwoman, Glades Community Board; Iraida Ruiz, executive director, Wee Care; Bob Bozzone, executive director, Comprehensive Alcohol Rehabilitation Program (CARP).

United Way board members Jorge Dominici, Flo-Sun, Inc., and Robert Coker, U.S. Sugar Corp., hosted a reception at the Belle Glade Country Club after the meeting.

United Way of Palm Beach County supports 58 local agencies with more than 200 programs serving the health and human service needs throughout Palm Beach County.

The Western Palm Beach County Mental Health Clinic, Inc. is sponsoring a Luncheon and Silent Auction followed by the Sterling Cup Final Polo Match on February 21.

The event will begin at noon at the Palm Beach Polo & Country Club, 13198 Forest Hill Blvd. in the Enclosure Club.

The event is chaired by Leigh Woodham of Belle Glade. Honorary Chair is Dolly Hand. Proceeds from the event will benefit the programs at the Western Palm Beach County Clinic, including the Nat Kahn Center for Child & Family Services, Alpha Program, Glades Youth Discovery Center and the Pregnant and Addicted Program (PANDA), a cocaine babies project.

Tickets are $25 per person and seating is limited to 200. For more information call Joe Amato at 992-1330.

Step aerobics has a new schedule

The Fitness Program of the City of Belle Glade's Parks and Recreation Department announces a new spring schedule.

In addition to the current beginning and intermediate level Step and Step-Aerobics combo classes, there are three new classes to choose from.

"Seniors and Friends" is designed to appeal to exercisers who want movement without the cardio-vascular changes experienced in beginning and intermediate level classes. This class is perfect for senior citizens, beginners, or people recovering from illness or injury. "Seniors and Friends" is 9 a.m. every Monday morning. The Fitness Program instructors remind you to check with your physician before beginning this, or any other fitness regimen.

"Stretch and Strength" is ideal for men, couples, and exercisers who want a workout without dance choreography. Using 1 to 3 pound weights, the exercisers perform a 15 minute aerobic segment with the Step, then isolate upper body muscle groups during the standing portion of the class. This 45-minute class closes with a relaxing stretch. It's held Tuesday nights at 7 p.m.

The "After School Step-n-Sweat" is just for high school students. It's also a 45-minute class and was developed with a student's busy schedule in mind. It's Wednesdays from 3:30 p.m. to 4:15 p.m. and features a challenging Step-aerobic workout, all at a special student rate of $1 per class.

Other classes are $2 each and all are held at the Belle Glade Municipal Civic Center, which features an improved air conditioning system.

Steps are provided, and three pound weights are available. Exercisers must wear rubber-soled shoes and are asked to bring a mat or towel and one to three pound weights. First-timers are encouraged to arrive 10 to 15 minutes early so the class instructor can familiarize them with the Step. Water bottles can be filled with cool water at the Civic Center water fountain.

Michele Young, nationally certified aerobics instructor, and Fitness Program Aerobics

Director commented, "Some of my students have lost weight and built muscle. But I was happiest recently when three different students informed me that their blood pressures had lowered."

Young said her main concern is safety and that exercisers are instructed to work at their own fitness level.

Benefit planned for Marie and Pete Williams

Friends and relatives of Pete and Marie Williams are sponsoring a benefit barbecue this Saturday at the Belle Glade Marina.

Mr. Williams, who is in Glades Health Care Center in Pahokee, is suffering from Alzheimer's disease. He also has several other medical problems.

Friends are hoping to raise money to defray the costs of medicine and nursing care. Mrs. Williams said she and her husband moved to Belle Glade in 1954. They have five daughters, Diane Scott, Linda Little and Mary Raby, who live in Belle Glade, Shirley Conlan who lives in Nevada and Delores Weeks who lives in Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams used to own and operate The Ole Dining Room on Main Street in

Marie and Pete Williams

Belle Glade. Mr. Williams then worked for several years for Cornell's Wholesale Beverage.

Organizers for the benefit say tickets are available for $5 by calling Ruth Woodruff at 996-5885 or Nellie Webster at 996-2786. The benefit will begin at 11 a.m. and barbecued chicken dinners with all the trimmings will be sold. Tickets are also available on site.

WHIPLASH

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the neck, caused by an auto collision, a fall, a powerful slap on the back, or even a violent sneeze. The ligaments and muscles controlling the spinal segments are stretched or sprained, allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.

Pahokee Middle Senior High School Rev. Pat Wallace Citizen of Year! honored for "Most Improved" on HSCT and party down to celebrate Great test scores...Most improved scores on the High School Competency Test were achieved by Juniors at Pahokee Middle Senior High School this year. Last Thursday, Superintendent Chuck Shaw and others from the West Area School Board threw a party for the teachers, faculty and juniors at the school to honor the achievement. Mr. Shaw presented a plaque to the school. Above, Mr. Shaw, left, and PHS principal Eugenia Jones, right, join a group of juniors in the cafeteria during the celebration.

SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

Pahokee Middle Senior High School was honored last Thursday by the Palm Beach County School Board and West Area Superintendent Chuck Shaw for having the most improved scores on the High School Competency Test in the Palm Beach County School District.

The test is required of all juniors who hope to graduate the following year.

Pahokee Principal Eugenia Jones said 94 percent of her juniors had passed the communications portion of the test, and 80 percent passed the math portion.

"That's an outstanding accomplishment," said Superintendent Shaw.

Principal Jones said the scores reflected many extra hours contributed by teachers working with students, and the students being willing to work harder than ever.

She said the school had set a goal of trying to raise test scores for first-time test-takers.

Superintendent Shaw said this was the first time a school had been honored in this fashion, but "they really deserve it: it's really something."

The Pahokee Chamber of Commerce on Friday named the Reverend Patricia Wallace as its 1992 Citizen of the Year.

Rev. Wallace, Youth Pastor at Saint James African Methodist Episcopal Church in Pahokee and Executive Director of Concerned Youth for Community Involvement, was stunned by the announcement. She drew a laugh from the crowd when she took the microphone and announced "For once in my life I'm speechless."

She hasn't been quiet very often.

Rev. Wallace has been the vocal, moving force behind many community oriented city projects, often appearing at and speaking to the city's Commissioners at regular monthly meetings.

She is largely responsible for the city's success in progressing toward having a recreation facility where the old Pahokee High School sits.

She's treasurer of Concerned

Citizens for Community Involvement; a member of Parent Advisory Councils at both Pahokee Middle Senior High and Pahokee Elementary Schools; chairperson of Pahokee's Parks and Recreation Advisory Committee; and is on the city's new Task Force for Unity.

She's also the director of Parents on Patrol. She can often be found on weekends cleaning up the area at Pahokee's MLK Park.

Rev. Wallace says she was "born on the Streamline," in 1954. Her husband, Frank, works for U.S. Sugar at Bryant Mill.

She's the mother of five children, Eric, 20, is a student at Edward Waters College in Jacksonville; Trevor, 20, is in the U.S. Navy in France; Joni, 11, is president of the Student Council at Pahokee Elementary School; and Jeremy, 2, is "obviously going to be a drummer," says his Mom.

Volunteer of the Year

Volunteer of the Year...is Cathy Mohney. Mrs. Mohney works at Bank of Pahokee and has helped with the Grassy Waters Festival and I Love Pahokee Day; and was Woman of the Year at Pahokee First United Methodist Church where she's President of the United Methodist Church Women.

Open House to be held at West Tech

West Tech is having an Open House Friday, February 19, from noon till 7 p.m.

There will be chicken dinners available and purchase of a dinner ticket makes you eligible for a drawing for a Barbecue grill.

All proceeds go to the West Tech Scholarship Fund. Call 996-4930 for more information.

Business of the Year

City Employee of the Year

City Employee of the Year...in Pahokee is Bruce Miller, Director of the City's Public Works Department. Above, Mr. Phil Provenza presents the award to Mr. Miller as Alice Thompson, Chamber Vice President, applauds.

Raider wrestlers wrangle Lemon It's Scholarship time again! Bay and Clewiston in Tri-Meet Glades Central Community High School's rampaging Raider Wrestlers pinned down double honors Saturday in a three-school meet held at Clewiston.

The Raiders beat Clewiston 48 - 28 and then beat Lemon

Bay 35 - 31. Lemon Bay beat Clewiston 55 - 15. In the Raiders' defeat of Clewiston, 103-lb Ronnie Thompson beat Taurus Cobbs 16 - 15; 145-lb Charles Charles-tin pinned Ralston Thompson at 4:32; 152-lb Levon Williams won by default over Louis Howard when Howard's shoulder popped out; Joaquin McGowan beat Kurt Seidenstucker 21 - 15; 220-lb Fred Holland pinned Derrick Anderson at 3:57.

Coach Frank Lasagna's son, Kevin, wrestling for Clewiston, beat GC's Joe Brown in the 189-lb class.

In the Lemon Bay match, Raider wrestler Lewis Taylor scored his first-ever varsity win, squeezing out a 6 - 5 victory over Lemon Bay's Nathan Vosburgh at 119-lb. Taylor was in a must-win match, said Coach Frank Lasagna. "If Lewis hadn't won, we'd have lost that match," he said.

Other winners against Lemon Bay were:

At 125-lb, Al Bradley pinned Dominic Wint at 4:21.

At 130-lb, Reggie Butts pinned Mike McClure in 0:22.

At 140-lb, Willie Dunning scored a Technical fall over David Kelly at 18 - 2.

At 160-lb, Josh Saddler scored a Technical fall over Doug Blanchard at 19 - 4.

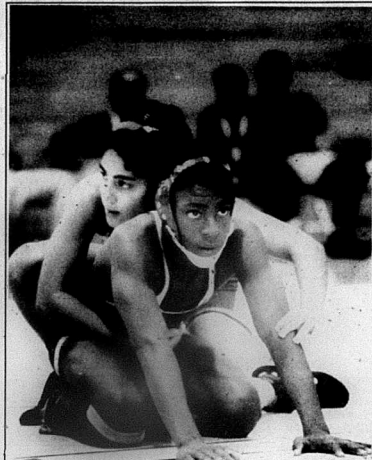

And, at 189-lb, Joe Brown pinned Chad Deppen at 4:26.

One highlight of the tourney was seeing Clewiston's female wrestler, Argelio Rodriguez.

She wrestled Lemon Bay's David Gensmore in 119-lb and was pinned in the first period.

She wrestled Glades Central's Dexter Brockman and managed to get the full three periods.

Brockman won, 16-14.

Dexter decks her...Glades Central Community High School wrestler Dexter Brockman had a new experience Saturday at Clewiston: He wrestled a girl in a high school wrestling match. The girl is Clewiston High wrestler Argelio Rodriguez. The two wrestled in the 119-lb. class. Brockman won the match 16 - 14. The match was part of a Tri-Meet at Clewiston.

GCCHS Soccer team undefeated

Who's that...little red-haired girl? She's Erin Higgins, soccer player for School of the Arts. She's seen here blocking a pass by Glades Central Community High School soccer player Hector Lorient, left, as Willem Hilaire comes in to assist. Glades Central has won all four of their games this year. This is the first year in several that the Raiders have fielded a soccer team. The Raiders have played three games against School of the Arts, and one against Atlantic High School.

Walker and Key will go to Missouri Western State; Jenkins will go to Miami; and Thornton will go to FAMU.

Four from Glades Central sign intent

Four Glades Central Community High School football stars have signed letters of intent for college football scholarships.

Lawrence Walker, Napoleon Key, Nakia Jenkins, and Michael Thornton all signed last Wednesday, the first day it was legal to do so.

Walker, a Raider linebacker, and Napoleon Key, offensive guard and linebacker, will both attend Missouri Western State College; Nakia Jenkins, Raider wide receiver and defensive back, will attend the University of Miami; Michael Thornton, offensive guard and linebacker for the Raiders, will go to FAMU.

Jenkins had 26 catches for 560 yards and six touchdowns this year, said Raider head coach Rick Casco.

Thornton was the Raiders' leading blocker, clearing the way for three 1000-yard rushers;

two last year, one this year; Walker made more than 50 tackles, made two interceptions last year, caused at least three fumbles, and recovered two of them; Key "did a great job blocking; he's solid and smart with good speed. He could've played any position," said Casco.

Track team...is practicing at GCCHS. Above, Todd Terry, left, and Elijah Ross pace the field. The team is practicing at the football field behind the school most afternoons. Coach Willie McDonald said the team is scheduled for a meet February 16, but he doesn't know yet if they'll participate. "I don't like to let them run too early," he said.

Two for Shawn...JV Raider Shawn Curry, #40, scores two points Saturday in GCHS loss to Suncoast's Chargers. Up to block Curry's shot is Victor Luster, #42. The JV Raiders lost to the Chargers after leading for much of the game.

SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

Glades Central Community High School's JV Raider Basketball Team lost a tough one Saturday night to Suncoast High School.

The Raiders led much of the game, but gave it away in the last sixty seconds when they failed to score on six consecutive free throws.

Coach Jim Reynolds said it was a tough loss.

"Free throws win games," he said.

"We didn't make ours."

The JV Raiders lost 65 - 62.

VRaiders lose to Suncoast

Reidel Anthony, Reggie Moorer, and Marvin Allen each scored two three-point goals Saturday night, but Suncoast's Chargers took an early lead and never let go to beat the Raiders 70 - 58. Chevron Rolle scored a three-pointer also. Anthony scored 14 points, Moorer had ten, Allen, JaJuan Seider and Henry Bennett each had eight, Rolle was held to six, and Fred Taylor and Jerome Shannon each scored two.

Fighting for the rebound...Forest Hill's Bobby Calloway, #50, grabs a rebound but loses it to Pahokee's Telly Jackson, #10, Friday night as the Blue Devils lost their sixteenth straight, 91 - 70. For a time in the third period it looked as if the Blue Devils might snatch the game from the Falcons, but alas, it was not to be.
